KEEP YOUR DOG COOL AT SUMMER SHOWS AND EVENTS

(By Jill Warren, English Setter Association of America, AKC)

I wish to express my gratitude to the many STCC members that attended the Special Meeting held on August 9th in Pasadena. I deeply appreciate your support, and commitment to the club. Club members traveled from near and far; as near as an easy 15 minute drive away to as far away as a daunting 3 hour drive one-way. These were all concerned members who had voices that needed to be heard, and to be given facts. Also many thanks to those members that phoned, or sent letters and emails of support.

It's sometimes amazing what can serve to strengthen a club and bring us together. I have this sense that tells me that where there were divisions in this club, there are fewer today. Moving forward, I would encourage you to continue to stay active and participating in the STCC.

Judges Selection Committee is working names of prospective judges for Specialty Show 2018. The committee will bring forth a proposed slate in September and membership will vote on judges at the November meeting.

Ted Miyamura is working on the 2015-2016 STCC Membership Directory.

Fall Puppy Match is coming up soon and the match flyer is included in this newsletter. Date is Sunday, September 20th at Palm View Park in West Covina. Conformation Match Judge is Robert Inman. Scottie Booth will have drastically discounted items, so please bring your checkbook and visit Sherry and nice ladies of the Booth.

Next STCC General Membership Meeting (with Limited agenda) has been changed to Sunday, September 20th at Palm View Park at 10:30 a.m. just prior to the Puppy Match. Enjoy the rest of your Summer and hope to see you soon.

Linda Sanchez

Summertime living is not easy for a fully coated English Setter. If you want to see what it's like for our dogs in hot weather, the next time it's 90-plus degrees, put on your warmest coat and go outside. Now try running.

English Setters, like most breeds, are built to conserve rather than dissipate heat. They don't have sweat glands, and most of their body is wrapped in dense fur with no exposed skin; they lose heat through the pads of their feet and through their mouths by panting.

As you assemble your gear for summer dog events, you might consider including the following:

- battery-operated fans
- shade cloths to cover your vehicle
- a canopy
- cool cloths
- plenty of cool water
- a rectal thermometer with lubricant (to take your dog's temperature if you suspect heatstroke)
- pediatric electrolyte solution (for the dog to drink if he gets dehydrated)

"Cool cloths" are made of chamois material, like those used to dry cars at a car wash. You can put a moist chamois on your dog's back without getting him too wet, take it off, and present him to the judge, who probably will only feel a tiny bit of dampness when going over the dog.

If you keep your cool cloth in a cooler, don't put it directly into the ice. You don't want to put anything ice-cold onto a dog, because that shrinks the blood vessels and actually generates more internal heat. Instead, whatever you apply should be cool but not cold.

Another good way to keep your dog cool is to have him stand on a damp towel to help the footpads release heat. If you spray your dog with cool water, spray his underside that is not exposed to the hot sun (such as the groin area, where the hair is less dense), the bottoms of his feet, and inside his mouth.

Of course, you know to seek shade wherever you can find it. Throughout the day, a thoughtful judge will take advantage of every scrap of shade by shifting the location of where the dogs are examined and gaited as the sun and shade shift in the ring.

In spite of your best efforts, your dog could develop heatstroke. Here are the symptoms:

Symptoms of Heatstroke

- unusual breathing (rapid and loud)
- high rectal temperature (103 or higher)
- extreme thirst
- weakness and/or fatigue
- frequent vomiting
- disorientation
- a bright-red tongue and pale gums
- skin around the muzzle or neck doesn't snap back when pinched (dehydration)
- difficulty breathing
- thick saliva
- increased heart rate, collapse or coma

If you suspect that your dog is overheated, immediately take him to a shady spot or into a cool indoor room, or into a cooled-off car with the air conditioner running, or turn a fan on him. Separate his fur with your fingers so the cool air can penetrate to the skin.

To cool your dog down as quickly as possible, pour cool water over his head and body, or gently hose a very gentle stream of cool water over him, or, where possible, submerge him in a tub of cool water.

As soon as your dog is somewhat stable, it's a good idea to take him to the nearest vet for evaluation and treatment if necessary. And we know you would never, ever leave a dog in a closed vehicle when outside temperatures are above 60 degrees F..

STCA HEALTH TRUST FUND (HTF)' s BIG NEWS!

The 2015 Scottish Terrier Health Survey is now on-line! As of August 1, 2015, the Health Survey is operational and ready for input. Please take the time to fill out the survey and contribute to the knowledge of the health our breed! With your help and the information you provide, the Health Trust will have a greater understanding of where we need to concentrate our efforts and direct our resources for research and education. We will be targeting STCA, STC of Canada, all regional club members, and the people to whom we have all sold Scotties. In fact, anyone owning a purebred Scottish Terrier anywhere in the world is welcome and encouraged to fill out the survey. It is very important that we reach as many of our owners as possible! Please help us get the survey to them. If you know of anyone who owns a Scottie, please share this information and forward the link at the end of this announcement.

***The survey will run from August 1, 2015 until December 31, 2015.*****

This health census is done every 10 years, and we need ALL SCOTTIE OWNERS to fill out the survey! Not just STCA members, not just US Scottie owners, but everyone! The on-line format will make it easier for all Scottie owners everywhere to participate. Please go to the STCA Website at <http://www.stca.biz/> and follow the links to the Survey!

SPECIAL MEETING NOTES

A Special General Meeting was convened August 9 to discuss a letter from the STCA to the STCC. The club approved to use counsel as necessary and to send an answer.

WHITTIER VOTES AGAINST MANDATORY SPAYING/ NEUTERING FOR DOGS

Aug 12, 2015 - The Whittier City Council rejected the mandatory spay/neuter ("MSN") provisions of its proposed updated animal-control ordinance.

Like many other cities in Los Angeles County, Whittier contracts with the county's Department of Animal Care and Control for animal-control services. Nearly 10 years ago, the city had adopted the Los Angeles County's animal-control ordinance but chose to exclude the MSN provisions of the L. A. County code. Under the proposed update to the city's animal-control ordinance considered, the city would have adopted the MSN provisions of the county.

"Mister Personality" arrived in Rescue three weeks ago with the unusual name of Laszlo. His senior owner had passed away last Christmas but he was able to continue living in the same home with an adult daughter.

When she called us to see if we would take him she said that she was moving the next week to live with her brother in Wisconsin and that he wouldn't be welcome there.

Laszlo is five-years-old and he was adopted by the daughter's father in 2011 when he was just one year old. "My father got him from a rescue group in Los Angeles, who told us that he had been found in a West Los Angeles park tied to a tree," she said.

"He was very protective of my father who took him everywhere and was his constant companion," she continued. "He loves to go to the dog park by our house and he will run up to big dogs, but never looks for a dog fight even though he likes to be in the middle of things."

Laszlo is with a very nice family in Anaheim Hills who already had a female Scottie and had lost their male to cancer last year ... an adult son and his mother. When I told the son about Laszlo he was very excited and called me after he talked to his mother, "who is really excited, too," the son said. "I googled the name Laszlo and I love the meaning," he added.

Ella and Lily came to us from Las Vegas where they had been purchased from a Craigslist ad in Victorville. They needed "the works," i.e., spays, teeth cleanings, vaccines and microchips. which we did in July when they first arrived.

They've settled well into our routine of a 6 AM 45-minute walk and another shorter walk at 9 PM, just before crate/bedtime. Whoever adopts them will be absolutely charmed by their sweet natures!

SCOTTIE RESCUE

We are getting a new San Diego shelter girl tomorrow afternoon. She was impounded last week as a "stray," aka, "lost dog," and no one claimed her in her holding period, so my wonderful San Diego helpers, Sev and Julia MacPete paid her bail fee yesterday and we will meet in San Clemente tomorrow afternoon for the pickup.

Sev and Julia were able to visit with her after they paid bail, and Sev told me last night that she is a real little spitfire, dashing madly after a thrown tennis ball and leaping up in the air to try and catch it. "If we didn't already have our two Scotties and two cats, we'd take her in a heartbeat. We are so tempted," he sighed. Their Mac land Petey are from our Rescue Program.

Tentatively, she will go to one of our wonderful Bakersfield adopters, who just returned from a two month trip to London and Scotland with his wheaten Scottie, Hamish, who he adopted from us two years ago.

This was Hamish's second European vacation and he and his "dad," Andrew, had a very exciting encounter in a small coastal town named Padstow, in Cornwall. They met Prince Charles and Camilla.

Just before sailing back to New York on the Queen Mary, they visited Padstow to see a renowned chef named Rick Stein, who was working at Padstow's famous Seafood Restaurant and to experience the food. Hearing of a royal visit happening the next day, he and Hamish joined the mostly local residents lining the main street of Padstow to get a glimpse of Prince Charles and Camilla. It turned out that they were going to be greeting people in the area where he and Hamish were standing, "So I picked Hamish up, and as Camilla came by first, she smiled at Hamish and said "Who is this?" ... Hamish, Andrew told her. "Isn't he lovely!" she remarked, moving on.

"About 30 seconds later Prince Charles stopped in front of them and asked "What kind of dog is this?" and Andrew replied, "He is a wheaten Scottish Terrier." Prince Charles moved ahead and over his shoulder he told Andrew, "There are many dogs from Scotland that are Scottish terriers. I really like the Aberdeen Terriers." In eight weeks of travel in Scotland and England we saw only three Scotties, total, and they were all in England ... but we saw Westies everywhere in both countries."

SPECIAL THANK YOUS to: Alex and Heather Chang; Sev and Julia MacPete; ... and to S.P. and L.F. Wagner for a generous donation "in memory of Andrea Hartmann.

Thank you so much for your generous gifts to our special Scotties.

REST IN PEACE ... Andrea Hartmann, my very dear and much loved friend, passed away several weeks after our Spring Match, which she and her husband, Dennis, attended, along with their three rescued Scotties. Andrea handed out our "Champion of the Heart" rosettes to our Rescue Parade participants and for 23 years she and Dennis have been a very big part of our Scottie Rescue Program.

She was just 52 when she was diagnosed with breast cancer in June of 2014. Throughout her treatment Andrea was so brave and courageous, and always positive ... always asking me about our newest rescued Scottie and wanting to help in any way she could, until she lost her valiant battle in just ten short months.

I hope she is now reunited with her eight beloved Scotties that have already crossed the Rainbow Bridge. She brightened all of the days of those lucky enough to have known her.
